Advocacy members committee campaign on ending violence against women in Ashterly District of Daikndi Province in 2015

2. Message of Executive .Director

I am proud to develop the 2015 Annual Report, reporting on activities and results before I took up duties on Mar 2016, but that will have an impact well into the future.

Labor Spring Organization (LSO) is a human rights organization which improves life conditions in central highland regions (Daikundi, Bamyan, Ghor, Helmand and Urozgan provinces). In the coming months and years, we plan to expand our works/ services in order to promote human rights especially women right in Afghanistan. Our organization is working to protect and advance human rights, and to be active agent of change.

We carried out important initiatives for rehabilitation of people life and rural development. The initiatives were implemented through mobilizing communities; for instance, construction of 15 KM² road from centre of Daikundi (Nili) to Shahrstan District, a 6 month English language and computer training course for 600 youth (500 female and 100 male) in Bamyan province. As consequence of these self-motivated activities, the key founders of LSO deemed it necessary to register the organization officially with relevant government ministry in order to serve more effectively and smoothly for reaching out to wider marginalized communities in Afghanistan.

LSO implemented many projects with regards to gender equity and promoting women rights, including operating of Women Protection Center (WPC) or shelter in Daikundi province since March 2014 with funding from UN Women. LSO successfully completed the two 12 months of WPC and has been extended for one more year. In addition, we implemented awareness raising programs on capacity building of youth groups to engage them in ending violence against women. Our clients include Fatima, Nasiba, and Banin whom we provided WPC services. These girls and women have suffered mutilation, acid attacks, torture, attempted murder, and rape cases. Most still reside in our care.

I invite you to study our annual report, 2015 which mainly encompasses initiatives implemented on promotion of women rights and gender equality, including expansion of our services to VAW/G survivors coincides with establishment of the unity government where the president and his wife committed to supporting women and girls rights under the banner of democracy. Thus, we hope that we can achieve the expected results and strategic goal with the support of government.

Finally, we thank those who support us in assisting women/girls at risk of violence, and invite you to stand with us as we insist that Afghanistan respect the human rights of all its citizens, and support us in our work to create a life free of violence for every Afghan woman and girl.

Sincerely Yours,

Dr. Zakir Amiri

Executive Director of Labor Spring Organization (LSO)

3. Advocacy

LSO saved a woman from being killed

Success Story:

Case Story- LSO saved the life of a 25 years old woman from being killed by her relatives.

Province: Daikundi

Date of referral to WPC by our youth advocacy committee: 6 / Sep / 2015

Date of exit from WPC: 14/ Feb/ 2016

Nasiba, a 25 years old woman, who lives in Sangmum Village, West of Nili District, Daikundi province. Nasiba lived alone at her home for one year and her husband was away in Iran for work at this period. She has two small children and living with them in isolation from other relatives. As she said “On April 9th, 2015 at 9:00 AM, 3 unknown men with mask on face entered my home and raped me, and I did not disclose this incident to my family members because I was embarrassed and afraid that they would kill me.” However, 6 months later, the families themselves got suspicious that Nasiba was pregnant and they tortured and jailed her in the basement until they got confession that the incident was right. They decided to kill her.

LSO youth advocacy committee discovered the case, and they started to save her. Since her family hit and lacerated her and was determined to kill her, advocacy committee took firm action for her survival including coordinating with Mullahs, district women council and youth district committee from other districts. Last week of August and beginning of September, the advocacy committees and influential groups convened several advocacy sessions. Ultimately, they succeeded to get the consent of her family and husband to keep her alive and send her to Daikundi WPC for efficient services, as the husband was in Iran, we received his agreement through phone call. Right after that, the committee referred her to our Daikundi WPC. This process of the advocacy of Najiba is also illustrated in the below hierarchy of photos.

Now, four months later, Nasiba is a different person. She has become a healthy, motivated woman. She has benefited from basic services of WPC; food and health care, counseling and recreation. Upon her entrance to WPC, she was also enrolled in the WPC’s vocational training courses to learn how to embroider, sew and use a computer. She has learnt embroidery and sewing, and she is currently producing embroidered clothes and dress. Our social workers exposed her products for sale to public in Women Handmade Products Campaign Section of Daikundi’s DoWA, and give the money to her. Our case workers and defense lawyers prosecuted her case in the civil court and got her divorce. She was reintegrated in to her parents. According to follow-ups visit, she was happy with her family and work as tailor in her home using the skills she learnt at WPC. From July, 20th, 2015-Dec-31st 2015, youth advocacy committee advocated 72 VAW survivors and women at risk of violence in 5 mentioned districts, of which 71 cases solved and reintegrated into their homes and 1 rape case due to its severity referred to our Daikundi WPC.

As well as LSO advocated another woman:

Gul Chaman, a 20 year old woman was lacerated by her husband on nose in the basement of her house on Sep, 14, 2014. She was from Shahrstan District, Daikundi province of Afghanistan. LSO in consultation with DoWA and AIHRC saved her and provided her with legal assistance and justice, and took her to provincial hospital (PH).

4. LSO Brief Introduction

Labor Spring Organization (LSO) is a non-governmental, non-political, independent and non-profit organization founded in 2010 to promote peace, justice, gender equality, women rights and human rights in Afghanistan. The prime concentration of LSO is on serving for the marginalized and poor communities in Afghanistan through socio-economic, educational empowerment initiatives, and awareness raising programs on advocacy policy, human rights, women rights and access to justice which may enable the communities to access to their basic life services and basic rights in the long run. Considering the wide range of issues which the poor communities have been facing for long time, inspired the founder team to implement a number of vital projects in the communities voluntarily with self-contributing funds.

As consequence of these self-motivated activities, the key founders of LSO deemed necessary to register the organization officially with relevant government ministry in order to serve more effectively and smoothly for reaching out to wider marginalized communities in Afghanistan especially Central Highland Regions. Since 2010, LSO has also completed some humanitarian projects funded by international sponsors. LSO has been implementing projects on promotion of women rights, human rights, youth civil rights, education and gender equality, as well as reduction of the discriminatory practices in central regions of Afghanistan. 6. Executive Summary

From Jan, 2015-Dec, 2015, LSO has implemented 6 projects in Daikundi and Bamyan provinces. The projects were intended to be implemented in four main areas which are promotion of women rights, anti-corruption, environment protection (cultivation of wild almond and cherries) and capacity building of LSO staffs. The projects are Women Protection Center (WPC), Youth Engagement in Elimination of Violence against Women, Fight against Corruption and English and Computer Training Course.

Firstly, in Youth Engagement and WPC projects, we aimed to advocate and assist survivors of violence against women (VAW) through providing safe house, advocacy centers, legal assistance, psycho-social counseling sessions, advocacy sessions, outreach awareness sessions on women rights, human rights, EVAW Law, and advocacy method, cases proceedings in court and access to justice. As result, implementing human rights, women rights have brought a great deal of prosperity in the lives of ordinary people especially women survivors of violence. The number of beneficiaries who found awareness on women rights, EVAW Law and WPC regulations are about 2136 populations (1413 female and 723 male), 19 governmental and non-governmental organizations, and 4 districts of Daikundi province.

Secondly, anti-corruption program which was aimed to enhance awareness of civil society members and youth groups about corruption and its negative effects as well as it intended to encourage them work in reduction of corruption in their related districts. The total beneficiaries of this program were 500 people (300 female and 200 male). Also, quick book and English language training were conducted for objective of capacity building of LSO staffs.

Next, environmental project which was plantation of wild almond and cherry in Bamyan Province aimed to promote environment protection, forestry development and public awareness on benefits and protection of forest through cultivating wild plants and awareness training. As result, 30 villages consist of 500 households, with 3000 population (1300 male and 1700 male) benefited from awareness programs on forestry development, environment protection and cultivation of wild almond in Waras District of Bamyan Province where LSO cultivated 10 hectares land with wild almond and cherries. This project led directly to increase of underwater resource and protecting of homes and agricultural fields from landslides, avalanche, and soil erosion.

7. LSO Programs in 2015

LSO has implemented 6 projects in 2015, in conformity with its organizational mission. Majority of projects have been implemented to promote women rights, human rights, corruption, civil society rights and internal capacity building of LSO staffs in central highland regions of Afghanistan; Bamyan and Daikundi Provinces. Unlike human rights projects, LSO have had one agricultural project for the period of June 2014- June 2016.

7-1 .Youth Engagement in Elimination of Violence against Women

LSO implemented youth engagement in elimination of violence against women project (EVAW/G) in Shahrstan, Gizab, Khider, Ashterlai and Nili Districts of Daikundi Province from Feb 1st – Dec, 31st, 2015. This project was aimed to ensure women basic rights, advocacy of VAW survivors by raising awareness of youth on women rights, EVAW Law, Advocacy Method and Youth Civil Rights. For this program, 576 youth (243 male and 333 female) were selected as trainees from 15 schools, Nasir Khusraw Private University, Legan Institute of Midwifery and 5 mosques belonging to target districts [below photos- explanation and images about trainees].

Advocacy Committee Members Gathered Together in Nili district, Daikundi Province to Coordinate Their Advocacy Activities 2015.

Youth trainees participated at training of youth engagement in elimination of violence against women in Khidir District, Daikundi province on June 5th, 2015.

Youth trainees participated at youth engagement training in elimination of violence against women in Nili District, Daikundi province on 28th, June, 2015.

Youth trainees participated at youth engagement in elimination of violence against women training in Shahrstan District, Daikundi province on June- 1st-2015.

Youth trainees participated at youth engagement in elimination of violence against women training in Ashterlai district, Daikundi province on June-23rd -2015.

In order to achieve its objectives, LSO designed project to train a group of 676 youth (313 male and 363 female) on mentioned topics in 4 covered districts from June 1st, 2015 to June 30th, 2015. Then, we conducted post assessment of trainees to select 6 advocacy committee members who are excellent in women rights and advocacy programs.

As result of training and assessment, 24 youth groups (12 male and 12 female), 6 youth per district who were the most motivated and interested in women rights were selected as advocacy committee members in 4 target districts were equipped with advocacy promotional materials (posters, manuals and banners), outreach activities action plan, agendas and one advocacy center per district to work as advocates on behalf of LSO in their related districts. The action plan were designed in such a way that they regularly organized meetings for community key elders, CDCs and youth in each district for discussion of challenges, lesson-learnt and progress of the activities as below:

1. Advocacy committee coordination monthly meeting (30 participants consist of youth and influential groups of society) participated at the advocacy coordination monthly meetings at the end of each month from July 20th to Dec, 31st, 2015.
2. Internal meeting for assessment of the advocated and indentified cases. These meetings were held by 24 advocacy committee members who are bringing updates about women situation from every village of the covered districts.

From July 1st, 2015 – Dec, 31st, 2015, youth advocacy committee held 32 coordination meetings in which 960 participants (380 influential group of society-190 male and 190 female, and 580 youth including 290 male and 290 female) attended. The meeting attendees came from 20 CDCs, 4 women districts councils, 5 religious schools and 15 mosques. As well as, 32 internal meetings were held, but it was for a small assessment of youth advocacy committee activities. Both meetings were held as means of access to community and elders' coordination and assistance in advocacy of women at risk of violence or VAW survivors referred to advocacy centers.

With end of this project, the advocacy centers facility was handed over to youth advocacy committee and CDCs of each district. Mosques were chosen as place for their volunteer activities, and we had regular contact with them after the end of project.

7 -2. Women Protection Center (WPC) at center of Daikundi Province (Nili)

In 2015, LSO has implemented the shelter project in Daikundi Province since March 1st, 2014 and has been extended for the third year (Mar, 1st, 2016- Feb, 28th, 2017). This project is aimed to provide women at risk of violence and VAW survivors with WPC services, access to justice, advocacy, legal aid, and counseling and mediation. In detail, the objective intended to provide development in the status, living condition and rights of women and girls seeking assistance from violence and violation of their rights through comprehensive services, for instance; protection, access to justice, counseling and mediation, legal assistance, educational empowerment, and vocational classes in WPC.

In addition to WPC services, LSO held 12 monthly WPC coordination meetings with 13 governments' related stakeholders for our clients' cases proceedings in court and attorney general office and reintegration into communities/families. LSO have solved and protected 76 cases (34 in 2014 and 42 in 2015) and reintegrated them into the community.

7-4. English Training Course for LSO's Staffs Capacity Building

-August 1st, 2015-September 30th, 2015, 24 staffs of LSO have benefited from English training course which was 2 hours per 6 days of the week. Of whom, 6 staffs have been taught directly and 18 staffs benefited indirectly. Those six staffs graduated from intermediate level (Streamline, destination) by taking final test. This program was funded by counterpart international. Now they are able to understand 4 skills of English and compose emails, informal and formal reports, meeting minutes, and reports.

During more than 30 years of conflict including the period of Taliban in Afghanistan especially in Daikundi province, people did not go to schools because stopped by Taliban especially women and girls in Daikundi Province, in case of conducting English training course in LSO office, can enhance capacity of LSO staffs in English language and solve most of office related matters.

7-5. QuickBooks Training for Capacity Building of LSO's Staffs.

LSO also held a 2 month quick book course in Daikundi Province from August to September, 2015 which was funded by counterpart international. During these two months, 2 staffs of the organization has benefited from quick book training. They have completed following financial reports:

Work Completed

As of September 30, the quick book program is perfectly and completely finished. During these two months, these two staffs made entry of all 2015 financial report in quick book system. Now, it is easy for auditor to check the reports soon and easily.

7-6. Planting Wild Almond and Cherry Project in Waras District, Bamyan Province

-May, 5th, 2014- Dec, 31st, 2015, LSO cultivated 10 hectares of land with wild almond and cherry seeds in 30 villages (500 households with population 3000 people- 1700 female and 1300 male) in mentioned district. This project was granted by UNDP with the aim of reforestation of the mountainous areas and protecting people from avalanche and soil erosion for the period of May, 5th, 2014– 5 June 2016. The last monitoring from project area on 11th Dec, 2015 show, all wild almond and cherry were grown and protected well. People are hopeful that plants will grow further to make area greener and increase their natural resources.

8. Achievements Analysis against Target Activities in Strategic Plan

To have a good analysis of organization activities and achievements in 2015, program department compares the achievements with strategic plan of organization which was prepared in 2013.

8-1.Strategic Goal: To empower Afghan communities through educational programs and conducting awareness raising programs on human rights, women rights, peace, conflict resolution, gender equality, advocacy, government policies and environmental issues.

8-2.Strategic Objectives and Expected Results:

1. To enhance awareness of 6000 people on women rights, human rights, advocacy method, gender equality and youth civil rights until Dec, 2017,

In 2015, 2536 people (1413 female and 1123 male) from different level of communities found awareness on women rights, EVAW Law, human rights, gender equality, and access to justice through LSO's awareness raising programs. As well as, 13 government and non-government institutions have found awareness on women rights and EVAW Law.

2. To provide 400 women of VAW survivors with access to justice, protection, legal services and advocacy until Dec, 2017,

In 2015, LSO provided 148 women victims of violence with access to justice, protection, legal services and advocacy.

3. To provide 3600 community key actors with peace building, democracy, corruption, conflict resolution and reintegration, and rules of law promotion until Dec, 2017.

Out of 3600 target community actors, only in 2015, 500 civil society members (250 male and 250 female) including representatives of 3 women based organizations were trained on corruption and its negative consequences to community and government for the period: Jan 2015 – Dec 31st, 2015.

4. 1000 people will gain soft skills to work on their economic situation improvement from Jan 2013 to Dec 2017.

In 2015, LSO did not have a separate economic empowerment project for its target people in Daikundi province. However, we did have vocational training and English and Computer courses in our Daikundi WPC. About 76 protected women benefited of it.

5. 800 people find awareness and experience on environmental protection and forestry development within 5 years of its strategic plan (2013- 2017).

As part of its environmental project (Cultivation of Wild Almond and Cherry), LSO organized awareness raising workshops on forestry development and protection and benefits of forest for 100 people (60 male and 40 female) including Community Development Council (CDC), NRM Committee and 3 representatives of women district councils. In addition to awareness raising sessions, 75 labors (males) received wages (cash for work) in plantation of the plants seeds. The 10 hectares planted areas will save 30 small villages- 500 households (3000 population-1300 male and 1700 female) from landslides, soil erosion, avalanche, drought and any other natural disasters.

6. To enhance knowledge of its 24 staffs on project cycle management, gender mainstreaming, financial system, and communication in 4 skills of English Language until Dec, 2017.

LSO implemented two capacity building projects like a 2 month quick book and English language training for its staffs. Out of the 24 target staffs, 2 staffs (both male) of us have learnt quick book and 6 staffs (3 male and 3 female) find the required capacity to work in office. The rest of target staffs will be provided with capacity building trainings next year.

Finally, implementing human rights, women rights and environmental projects have brought a great deal of prosperity and awareness in the lives of ordinary people especially women. The number of beneficiaries who benefited from aforementioned projects are 6451 populations (3638 female and 2813 male), 19 governmental and non-governmental organizations, and 8 districts of Daikundi and Bamyan provinces and one district of Urozgan. It should be mentioned that cross cutting issues have been considered in all projects. Gender, women rights, peace and security as well as environment and infrastructures are the important ones of those issues.
